

› PHOTO EXHIBITION ›

LAST DAYS OF THE
New York
RESTAURANT

To be held on the former premises of the iconic Kings Cross restaurant, this exhibition by local photographer Michael Gormly captures the restaurant, its hosts Paul and John, and several of its patrons not long before it closed in October 2010. The project celebrates the fifty-plus years the New York fed all comers with classic Australian food at budget prices, and builds a symbolic bridge between the past and present uses of the premises.

Where:

Antiques on Kellett
18 Kellett Street Kings Cross
(off Bayswater Road opposite the Mansions Hotel)

Opening:

Thursday 1 September 2011 6.30pm

Soundtrack: Chilled '60s underground
from DJ Mick Normal

Souvenir menus will be available plus

Gourmet finger food inspired by the
New York menu

Wines by gold coin donation

Meet new owner Stella and browse her collection of antique and retro treasures